

IMPORTANT INFORMATION – PLEASE READ

Philips Strand Lighting offers the enclosed drawings as reference only. Users of this information take complete and sole responsibility of the use of the enclosed information for creating or commissioning a third party to create, a protective case for the described products.

Use of the enclosed drawings does not constitute:

- A release of, including, but not limited to, the intellectual properties, copyrights, trademarks, design, etc. of Philips Strand Lighting's ownership of the enclosed information or its related products.
- An endorsement by Philips Strand Lighting of any case manufacturer to create a case based on the enclosed information.

Users must insure that if they create a case for the equipment described in the enclosed information, that the case adequately protects the equipment from all aspects of travel and storage. Philips Strand Lighting does not inspect or approve protective cases.

Philips Strand Lighting makes no warranties or representations whatsoever with regard to any product information provided in the enclosed, and you acknowledge that any reliance on representations and information provided in the enclosed shall be used at your own risk. The enclosed information, the design of the described product(s), specifications, etc. is subject to change at any time without prior notice.

Damage from transportation is not covered under Philips Strand Lighting's limited warranty.

If you have any questions regarding the enclosed information or the described products, please contact Philips Strand Lighting customer service at 1.214.647.7880.